What's a Parish?

In the Episcopal Church we throw around the word "parish" a lot. But what does it mean?

These days at least, it's largely synonymous with the words "church" or "congregation," and essentially means the local worshipping community.

Historically though, parish was a geographical term, and that's the way it's still used in Louisiana, where it essentially corresponds to the word "county." In England, the word "parish" means a geographical area centered on a specific church. That means that English priests can say something you rarely hear an American priest say: "I have many Hindus in my parish." In theory, anyone residing within the bounds of an English parish - no matter what their religion - a "parishioner" of that church!

Complicating things still further, in the Episcopal Church, the word "parish" indicates a certain type of church, specifically one that is self-supporting and has the right to elect its own rector and vestry (as opposed to a "mission church"). Having said all that, when you say, "Grace is my parish," you are essentially saying the same thing as "Grace is my church." And we're happy when you say either one!

Lenten Weeknight Worship Starts Tonight

Grace Church is offering a new weekday worship option on Thursdays during Lent, beginning tonight, March 14. The photo above shows where in the church we will worship, just in front of the Messiah Chapel. We will gather at 6 PM on Thursday evenings for prayer, scripture, Eucharist, and song.

This service will be contemplative in nature and feature music from the Celtic tradition, accompanied by our beautiful concert grand piano. We will be treated to homilies by a different lay preacher each week. Adrienne Southgate will preach tonight, and Mother Lavonne Seifert will be the celebrant.

Invite a friend into a warm, candlelit space and share your Lenten journey with others. The service will last about 45 minutes, and parking is available in the Grace Church lot.

Lenten Compline and Evensong

Please don't miss our next Compline service beginning at 8:00pm this Sunday, March 17, and featuring the Women's Compline Choir. Doors open at 7:30pm for contemplation and prayer, and then at 8:00pm enjoy half an hour of soothing chant, candlelight, and incense.

And mark your calendars as well for our next service of Choral Evensong, which will be Sunday, March 31, at 4:00pm, and will feature music by Rheinberger, Spicer, and Blair.

Second Sunday in Lent

O God, whose glory it is always to have mercy: Be gracious to all who have gone astray from your ways, and bring them again with penitent hearts and steadfast faith to embrace and hold fast the unchangeable truth of your Word, Jesus Christ your Son; who with you and the Holy Spirit lives and reigns, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.
