

Spotlight on Grace Know Thy Vestry: Anaezi Modu

Today, in our occasional series, "Know Thy Vestry," we feature our newest vestry member, Anaezi Modu. Anaezi was elected by the vestry to complete Dave Reedy's term when Dave moved to Virginia this summer. For those of you who may be new to the Episcopal Church, here's a short primer on vestries:

According to the website of the Episcopal Church, "The basic responsibilities of the vestry are to help define and articulate the mission of the congregation; to support the church's mission by word and deed, to select the rector, to ensure effective organization and planning, and to manage resources and finances." While there are some clearly defined roles for the rector (such as responsibility for worship services) and the vestry (such as budgeting and financial decisions) much of the leadership of the parish is shared by rector and vestry, in keeping with the Episcopal commitment to the equality and partnership of lay and ordained leadership.

Here at Grace, we have 12 vestry members that are each elected for a three-year term (with the possibility of re-election once before needing to rotate off the vestry). A nominating committee named by the vestry each fall (and made up of both vestry and non-vestry parishioners) selects a slate of new vestry members that is formally elected each February at the parish's annual meeting. Following that meeting, the vestry elects four officers (Senior Warden, Junior Warden, Treasurer, and Secretary/Clerk) to serve for that year. The vestry meets monthly, usually on the last Wednesday of the month, and any parishioner who would like to receive the minutes of the vestry meetings is welcome to call or email the parish office and ask to be placed on that email list.

I hope everyone at Grace Church feels free to approach their rector about anything that's on their mind, but parishioners should also know that they can talk to anyone on the vestry at any time about ideas or concerns or questions they might have about the life of the parish. I want to thank Anaezi for joining the vestry as well as all who have served on the vestry in my time here at Grace!

God's Peace, Jonathan+

A few words from Anaezi Modu:

Dear Fellow Parishioners,

Thank you for the opportunity to serve on the vestry, and to contribute towards the continued growth of our spiritual home.

I came to Grace about 7 years ago following the closing of The Cathedral of St. John. Seeing some familiar faces during a visit, along with Jonathan's warm welcome, I felt immediately at home. One of the many things I appreciate about Grace is the friendliness of fellow parishioners and the fact that you can simply "come as you are" without much pomp and circumstance.

Some parishioners may not know that I have an adult daughter that currently lives in New York City. During one of her occasional visits, I hope she gets to meet some of you. Trained as an architect, I currently run a small business (REBRAND.com) that assesses and showcases effective brand transformations globally.

Please do say hello when the opportunity arises.

Anaezi
